

Forestry Grant Scheme capital inspections

This is an old version of the page

This is an old version of the page

Date published: 1 January, 2015

Date superseded: 10 March, 2016

Under European Commission law, we must to check at least five per cent of the Forestry Grant Scheme capital claims each year.

Inspections are carried out on-site to check that the works have been carried out in accordance with what you agreed to do and against what you claimed on your Forestry Grant Scheme capital claim form.

The results of inspections can affect how much funding you receive.

The Forestry Grant Scheme options which require capital inspections are:

- Woodland Creation
- Agroforestry
- Woodland Improvement Grants
- Tree Health
- Harvesting and Processing
- Forest Infrastructure
- Forestry Co-operation

What we will look for

Our inspector will check the information you provided in your application and claim for payment.

They will also make sure you are meeting the required regulations, Forestry Grant Scheme option eligibility requirements and Forestry Grant Scheme capital items eligibility requirements.

For example, this will involve:

- checking that the boundaries you have provided for the area of land you are claiming against are correct
- measuring and assessing the management or new woodland species type areas within woodland land parcels to check that the eligible area of the land you have claimed against matches the measurements you provided
- checking that capital items have been implemented to the minimum standard required and to the quantity agreed

Inspections outcomes

Our inspections are designed to make sure that the Scottish agriculture and forestry industries comply with European Commission rules and if Scotland does not meet these rules, the European Commission can fine the Scottish Government.

If you do fail part or all of your inspection, we will refer to this as a breach and may reduce your funding. Any reduction in payments will be assessed depending on how serious the breach is.

Our inspections underpin the correct payment of money under the Scottish Rural Development Programme.

Further information

For more information, contact your local Forestry Commission Scotland conservancy office.

Conservancy offices

Download guidance

Click 'Download this page' to create a printable version of this guidance you can save or print out.